THOUGHT
and
COMMENT

The Day's News

As we follow the expose of the Pennsylvania electric scandal and watch the campaign fund grow until it now exceeds $3,000,000 we wonder just what is behind it all. One man might spend a great deal of money, if he had it to spare, for the glory of representing his state in the national senate but when it develops that all of the candidates have spent huge fortunes to try for a seat in the senate we wonder just what "glory" really is. On top of the financial spree the latest charges include a hint at crookedness and halibut stuffing. "What price glory?"

LOWER TAXES
President Coolidge sounded the keynote of American prosperity on Monday night before the eleventh regular business meeting of the national government when he urged states and municipalities to cut their expenses. Even though the national government may cut its budget it does not wait a thing if the local governments continue to increase their expenses with no apparent profit to the tax payer.

PAVING
The city council seems to be on the right track in regard to the paving of our streets. If the city fathers will demand only first class work, pay for it, and then demand that they get what they are paying for it will pay in the long run. Involuntary movie stunts which we have been performing at the steering wheel of our car in negotiating some of our streets will be a thing of the past.

MODERN SPEED
A father and his daughter were drowned on Monday morning when their car plunged over a one foot guard on a ferry slip. The family was enroute to the north where they expected to spend their annual vacation. The mother miraculously escaped death in the accident. The abutment might have been higher and prevented this particular accident but from all appearances both the driver of the car and the company on whose property the accident occurred had taken every precaution. In this way we are plunged in a moments notice from the greatest joy to the deepest sorrow in this day and age. There is nothing to be learned from the accident except to stay out of automobiles and that is not likely to occur.

PUBLICITY
The Richmond Chamber of Commerce has asked the city council to appropriate $3,600 this year out of the tax fund to give Richmond publicity and thereby increase the revenue of this city. If the fund is properly managed and turned in the proper channels the $10 a day which the city would pay for advertising would be more than repaid in added assessments within a short time. Richmond needs the publicity and advertising and can benefit by telling the world what it has to offer here.

Benton Again
Injures Leg

George A. Benton, captain of the Contra Costa traffic squad who injured his leg last fall in an accident at the Southern Pacific Subway on Macdonald avenue is again confined to his home in Martinez as a result of another accident in which he slipped and fell to the roadway, twisting his leg. Benton will be unable to return to duty for some time.

CARS CRASH

Cars driven by George Cheney, 739 Fourteenth street and Edward Atson of El Cerrito collided at Fourteenth street and Cutting boulevard yesterday morning resulting in little damage to both cars and no injuries to the occupants.

STATES TO AID IN BUILDING OF
U. S. HIGHWAYS

$165,000,000 is Set Aside by Bill for the Carrying out of
Two Year Program

(By Universal Service)
By John A. Kennedy
WASHINGTON, June 22.—President Coolidge today signed the bill authorizing the expenditure of $165,000,000 by the national government for the construction of highway during the two years ending June 30, 1929.

By this bill, $75,000,000 is made available each year for general highways construction and $15,000,000 for building improved roads in the national parks.

The general expenditure will be matched dollar-for-dollar by states which the highways will be built, thus providing for a $300,000,000 program for the two years.

Earlier this year the president signed an appropriation bill carrying $75,000,000 for road building during the fiscal year beginning the first of next month which also will provide for a like expenditure by the several states.

The entire sum will be used to continue the construction of the federal aid transcontinental highway system, and will help weld together a net work of improved roadways covering the length and breadth of the United States.

The movement for the construction of this modern roads system, which is to eventually gridiron the country, was started twenty years ago through the bill now written into the statute books.

It will be possible to complete at least one transcontinental highway next year and, probably, twenty by 1931. Roads built in the last few years under the federal aid system and to be built under the new bill will be linked together in transcontinental systems.

The general construction program, which the bill signed by the president carries forward for three more years contemplates the most gigantic road system undertaken in the history of the world.

More than 200,000 miles of improved highways will result from it and upwards of $10,000,000,000 will have been invested by the federal government and the several states when completed.

There will be ten north-south and a like number of east-west transcontinental highways reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf. Through feeder roads already being improved in the various states, practically every isolated section of the country will be connected with the main trunk-line highways.

All of these roads will be marked through a uniform system that will do away with the chaos the motorist now encounters in attempting to grope his way thru a maze of named-trail highways that now radiate in all directions from a larger center of population.

States initiate the improvement that must be approved by the national department of agriculture. When proposed roads are thus approved, the department of agriculture will contribute a minimum of fifty per cent of the cost.

F. Sloper To Hang Friday

SACRAMENTO, June 22.—Felix Sloper, who murdered George W. Campbell, San Francisco police officer during an attempted bank robbery April 9, 1925, will enter the death cell at Folsom prison tomorrow to await execution on the gallows, Friday morning.

Mrs. R. N. Marshall and Mrs. E. Davis with a party of Oakland friends will leave today for a motor trip to Los Angeles returning by way of the Yosemite National park where they will spend July 4.

OPTIMISTIC
BURGLARS
OBTAIN 15c

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, June 22.—The world's most optimistic person in these dry times, perhaps, is a burglar battering at the door of a brewery safe in hopes he'll find a fortune. Two such optimists broke through two doors at the Tacoma Brewing company plant here last night and worked with heavy sledge hammers until early this morning breaking the knobs off the safe box which investigation disclosed was unlocked all the time. They were rewarded with loot totalling exactly 15 cents.

FATE OF FARM
BILL IN DOUBT

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Friends and foes of the McNary-Haugen bill in the senate were so evenly divided today that the fate of the measure is now in doubt.

Advocates of the bill claim that it will be supported by twenty Democrats and believe that these votes in combination with twenty-two Republicans will be sufficient to pass it.

The margin of votes is so close that the passage or failure of the bill now depends upon the absentee list when the final vote is taken on Wednesday or Thursday.

If advocates refuse to "pair" with senators who are absent, they believe that 42 votes will prove a safe margin to pass the bill. But for each "pair" granted, they will lose a vote.

Elks Lay Plans For Big Picnic
At Ramona Park

Plans for the Elks picnic to be held at Ramona park on Sunday were discussed when the Richmond lodge of Elks met last night in the clubrooms. Harry Stow is general chairman in charge of the event and he announced that between 400 and 500 people are expected to attend this event which is open to Elks, their families, and their invited guests.

Dancing and a big barbecue will feature the day. Plans are also being made to attend the opening of the new Elks building at Oakland on Monday night. The local lodge will be entertained by the Oakland lodge.

Next Tuesday night will be El Cerrito night with the El Cerrito members providing the entertainment. James Stewart was in charge of the meeting last night.

Al Pollard Named

Al Pollard was elected president of the Local No. 23 of the Laundry Workers Union when it met last night in the Labor Temple.

The other officers of the local are Harry E. Baxter, vice president; Viola Cox, re-elected secretary and treasurer, and Leon Campbell, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans are being made to hold a banquet at Martins Grill in honor of the officers some time in the near future.

Mrs. Jennie Gillett had charge of last night's meeting which had a large attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. David Valierga and family, 630 Sixth street left yesterday for a weeks vacation in the south.

PENNSYLVANIA

W. C. T. U. in Entire Charge of Situation Revealed At Senate Quiz

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, June 22.—Prohibition enforcement in Pennsylvania has been turned over to the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion, "custodian" of the $250,000 "dry slush fund" to enforce the prohibition law in the state.

This amazing situation was revealed to the state slush committee today by Mrs. Ella George, of Beaver Falls, Pa., state president of the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion, "custodian" of the $250,000 "dry slush fund" to enforce the prohibition law in the state.

Taking the stand again today, Mrs. George frankly admitted that she spends her time in Harrisburg "lobbying" for dry legislation while the state legislature is in session.

Under the vigorous questioning of committee members, Mrs. George unfolded the following picture of the manner in which a great function of the state has been turned over to a private organization:

1.—The Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. has raised over $130,000 of the $250,000 fund to enforce the Armstrong-Snyder bill, the state enforcement act, which the legislature passed and then "nullified" by failing to appropriate money for its administration.

2.—This money is expended under the direction a "bureau" or "dry cabinet" appointed by Governor Pinchot.

3.—Governor Pinchot appointed their hurray feet scuffed up the dust of the short-cuts across Grant Park, the dust smudged their faces. The sun of a real summer morning beat down upon them uncomfortably warm but they hastened on, eager, smiling, only that they wouldn't be too late to get in.

Three Bridges Are Planned By County

MARTINEZ, June 22.—Three bridges are to be erected in the fall as an improvement to Contra Costa's highways. County Engineer R. A. Arnold was authorized by the board of supervisors on Monday to engage an architect to design two bridges, one of which is to span San Ramon creek at Danville and the other over Walnut Creek.

The third bridge contemplated will span one of the sloughs in the delta connecting Holland and Jersey Islands. For this bridge District Attorney A. B. Tinning was instructed to make application to the War Department for the necessary permit.

Traffic Officer Injured In Crash

Eddy Baker, city traffic officer received painful bruises to his right leg late yesterday afternoon when the motorcycle which he was riding sideswiped a car in front of the High School on Twenty-third street.

The car was pulling away from the curb and Baker did not notice it until too late to avoid the crash. His motorcycle struck the rear fender of the car. Slight damage was done to the motorcycle.

CARS COLLIDE
No one was injured and slight damage was done when cars driven by A. B. Minter, 1320 Macdonald avenue and Mrs. W. M. Abbey, 151 South First street collided in the Southern Pacific subway at an early hour last night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mulcaro, 534 Thirteenth street, left last week for a motor tour in Nevada.

Flames Threaten Berkeley Stores

The business district of Berkeley in the vicinity of University and Shattuck avenues was threatened by fire early yesterday morning. Practically the entire Berkeley fire department was called out to fight the blaze which did damage estimated between $25,000 and $30,000.

Most of the damage was done in the Pex Confectionary and restaurant where a large store of candy and other supplies was damaged by the flames, smoke and water.

Although the flames were confined to the Pex establishment the Santa Fe railroad office, the Owl Drug Store, a United Cigar store and the Branstead Jewelry store suffered loss from the smoke and water.

Garrard Blvd.
Paving Is To Start Soon

City Engineer and Representatives of Paving Company
Hold Conference

Construction of the paving of Garrard boulevard will start as soon as equipment arrives, according to an announcement made yesterday at a conference between City Engineer E. A. Hoffman and representatives of the Northern Paving company. George Curtis, contractor, is at present in Los Angeles but is expected to return to Richmond soon.

The East Bay Water company has assured the city that they will repair all leaks to their mains and any damage to the streets caused by leakage of the pipes. They have objected to remove the main on the grounds that the work is only two years old and the expense at this time would not warrant the change.

City Engineer Hoffman called the conference yesterday to learn when the paving company would begin actual construction of the roadway. The contract for the paving was entered into by the Santa Fe railroad company and the Key System Transit company with the Northern Paving company, contractors. Delays to the construction was caused by the leakage of mains of the water company, according to Contractor Curtis, who stated that the same condition now the case in the Pullman district would result unless the base was sufficiently dried out. He requested the city council to communicate with the water company to see what action it intended to take in the matter.

Estate Suit
Won By Mrs.
Schermmerhorn

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Mrs. Harriet Schermmerhorn, prominent society matron today won her suit for the $1,400,871 estate of her former husband, Francis J. Carolan who died in November 1923.

Mrs. Schermmerhorn, daughter of the late George Pullman of Pullman car fame, in her suit, contended that the estate belonged to her because it comprised money which belonged either to herself or to her late father.

The decision in favor of Mrs. Schermmerhorn was handed down by Superior Judge George H. Buck at Redwood City.

The will of Carolan bequeathed a portion of the estate of his widow and the remainder was divided among relatives. Mrs. Carolan remarried in 1925.

Suit Filed Yesterday is Expected to be Forerunner of Suits Totalling Million

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A damage suit for $40,000 which it was announced will probably be the forerunner of a series of court actions for damages which will total $1,000,000 and probably more was filed today against the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and local affiliated unions as the outgrowth of the carpenters' strike which has been on in the bay region for several weeks.

The action is filed by W. A. Wunrath a non-union man who alleges he was attacked and severely beaten by ten union men on April 28 while returning home from work. The action of Wunrath is backed by the Industrial Association and is the first civil action to arise from the strike.

Specifically named in the suit are fifteen officials of the union who are held to be responsible for the acts of their agents. Besides the officials there are thirty-one "John Doe" defendants and the following men specified by name: Alfred Bishop, Charles Davis, C. L. Hubbard and Jack Lawrence. The four mentioned have been under arrest.

Then men are said to have taken part in the attack following which Wunrath and J. E. Lane, another non-union worker, were left unconscious in the street. The attack happened at California and Kearney street while the attacked men were returning from work on the new Mark Hopkins hotel.

Chauncey F. Eldridge, one of the attorneys representing Wunrath said: "We consider that every one of the American plan carpenters, foremen, superintendents and contractors who have been assaulted, slugged, beaten or kidnapped have legal grounds to collect heavy damages. The suits in the aggregate will probably exceed $1,000,000."

A Lecture

Christian Science

Christian Science: The Fulfillment of Scriptural Promises

Salem A. Hart, Jr., C. S. of Cleveland, Ohio

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Was delivered last evening at the Roosevelt Junior High School Auditorium

Under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Richmond

Mrs. A. F. Purman in introducing the lecturer, made the following remarks:

"Friends, First Church of Christ, Scientists, of Richmond, bids you welcome."

"When first I became interested in Christian Science I could readily believe in its healing power, but what of the statement 'There is no sin'? One day I came across a verse in the Bible which I thought was positive proof that Christian Science was not true. It is found in 1st John 1-8. 'If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.'"

"Upon further study however, it was found that Mrs. Eddy does not ignore sin. On page 345 of the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' she says, 'Anybody who is able to perceive the incongruity between God's idea and poor humanity, ought to be able to discern the distinction (made by Christian Science) between God's man, made in His image, and the sinning race of Adam.'"

"As to the final disposition of sin we find a correlative of Rev. 12-10, on page 565 of this same textbook, 'For victory over a single sin, we give thanks and magnify the Lord of Hosts. What shall we say of the mighty conquest over all sin? A louder song, sweeter than has ever before reached high heaven, now arises clearer and nearer to the great heart of Christ; for the accuser is not there, and Love sends forth her primal and everlasting strain.'"

"It is my pleasure this evening to introduce to you one who will speak to you on this great subject of Christian Science. Mr. Salem A. Hart, Jr., C. S., of Cleveland, Ohio, Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Mr. Hart spoke as follows:

THE LECTURE

When the seventy disciples, whom Jesus had sent forth on a mission of healing, returned with rejoicing, the Bible tells us that he said to them: "Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you" (Luke 10:19). This promise, or assurance, of spiritual power to heal is beautifully set forth in the following correlative passages on page 56, of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "The promises will be fulfilled. The time for the reappearance of the divine healing is throughout all time; and whosoever layeth his earthly all on the altar of divine Science, drinketh of Christ's cup now, and is endowed with the spirit and power of Christian healing."

Webster defines the word "promise" as that which causes, or gives ground for, hope, expectation, or assurance. Now, is it not true that we will all agree that the promises made in the Bible are true, and were made for all time; so have we not the right to expect the fulfillment of these promises? Christian Science answers this question in the affirmative, and is fulfilling the promise of health and long life to the afflicted; of deliverance and forgiveness to the sinning; of comfort and protection to the sorrowful; of peace and plenty to those in want and woe; of wisdom and strength to the humble and obedient. It fulfills God's promise found in Isaiah: "And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not: I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and they shall not forsake them" (Isaiah 42:16). So, if there be any here to-night seeking a solution for the problem of grief and separation: At there the Spirit, who are sick or in want, or there be any who are struggling with misfortune or sin; if, perchance, there be any who for the first time have crossed the threshold of Christian Science, we have for you a joyous message of Love, of deliverance, of comfort, and happiness.

GOD

Jesus said: "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31-32). The truth about what? Why, the truth of being as recorded in the first chapter of Genesis—the truth about God and man, the truth which Mrs. Eddy discovered and brought to light in her study of the Bible.

In order to know this truth, it is necessary to know God aright; for Christian Science teaches that God is Truth. It is a regrettable fact that in this enlightened age so many differing beliefs about God are entertained. Many have been taught from childhood to believe that God is a corporeal or superhuman being, old in appearance, with a long, white beard, seated on a throne somewhere afar off, clad in flowing robes, with a sceptre in His hand; that He listens to our petitions or prayers, and condemns or pardons according to His judgment, which judgment is accepted as His will. Many also believe that He sends pestilence, famine, disease, and disaster to mankind as a punishment for wrong doing. It seems almost incredible that anyone to-day could accept such a concept of God, and yet many individuals are worshipping just such a concept. And it is because of these false or contrary beliefs about God that men and women are suffering, and paying the awful penalties accompanying such beliefs, the penalty of sin, sickness, and even death. Ignorantly believing that God causes all these afflictions, they even fear God; and this universal fear on the part of mankind is the cause of nearly all disease, all sin and poverty, all pain, suffering of every sort.

On page 19 of the Christian Science textbook, we find these words: "Jesus urged the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me,' which may be rendered: 'Thou shalt have no belief of Life as mortal; thou shalt not know evil, for there is one Life—even God, good.' Christ Jesus was the son of the God that is infinite good, who made all things good, and hath done no evil. Therefore, Christian Science teaches that God has ordained no law of sin or disease for you—no discomfort of any kind. It is sometimes asked, 'What is God's law? Christian Science answers, His law is the law of Life, Truth, and Love, the law of health, of perfection, of infinite good. This ever-present law is ever operative, and is an ever-present help that is the healer of disease. Therefore, all we need to do is to stop being afraid, to correct our thinking, to trust God, and know that when man has no law to govern him other than God's law, the law of health and Life, he is God-governed, hence perfect. The Bible tells us that God gave man dominion, and that means that we should be master of our surroundings, our environment, our business, our thinking. Christian Science declares that to know God aright, we must know Him as infinite good, as Life, Truth, and Love, Spirit, Soul, infinite Mind, Principle, intelligence, substance. We must understand Him to be the only power, the only presence, All-in-all. Therefore, if God is All-in-all, then He is all there is. Here someone may ask, 'If God is All-in-all, what and where is evil?' The Bible tells us that God made all, 'and without Him was made nothing made that was made,' and that He pronounced all He made good. Hence, evil, or devil, being no part of His creation, has no abiding place, is not power, and at best its only existence could be in a false belief. When asked, 'From whence cometh thou?' the devil answered, 'From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it' (Job 2:2). Thus it is readily seen that there cannot possibly be two opposite powers occupying the same space at the same time, because God, good, Principle, fills all space, and consequently, there is no room for the unlovely, for malice, envy, hatred, fear, jealousy, revenge, anger.

MAN

With this concept of God fixed in our consciousness, let us consider for a moment His image and likeness, man. In the first chapter of Genesis it is recorded that God created man in His image and likeness. The Bible also records that God is a Spirit, who are sick or in want, or in the image and likeness of Spirit, must be spiritual, and not material. On page 468 of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy has given us the scientific statement of being, which, when understood, makes this point very clear. It reads as follows: "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance in matter. All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation, for God is All-in-all. Spirit is immortal Truth; matter is mortal error. Spirit is the real and eternal; matter is the unreal and temporal. Spirit is God, and man is His image and likeness. Therefore man is not material; he is spiritual." Thus it is shown that man is the reflection, or image and likeness, of all that is good and perfect, that he reflects the peace, joy, and happiness of perfect health. He is thinking good, healthy, pure, and loving thoughts as the direct result of reflecting divine intelligence. As Paul says, "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." (II Corinthians 3:18).

If there is any one thing that we ought to be grateful for it is our God-given ability to think. In Proverbs we read, as a man "thinketh in his heart, so is he." Can you not see the importance of thinking correctly about all things? As we come in contact with the problems of human existence incident to daily life, as we encounter difficulties in our business, and entertain thoughts of inactivity, dull seasons, lack, and discouragement, we are shown by Christian Science that it is largely our own wrong thinking that causes our difficulty. So let us correct this error; let us be careful about our thinking, and, as St. Paul says, "put off the old man with his deeds; and put on the new man" (Colossians 3:9-10).

SENSE TESTIMONY

One of the basic causes of so much discord and sickness to-day is the general acceptance by mankind of personal sense testimony as reliable and true. We are not trusting God when we accept and rely upon the testimony of the senses as real or true, for we are then believing that matter has life, intelligence, and sensation. The five physical senses cannot be depended upon for guidance and truthful information, and I feel sure many of us have experienced striking examples of the falsity of sense evidence. Let us consider for a moment two parallel lines, such as the tracks of a railroad. Sense testimony would have us believe that these two lines converge into one at a distant point. Can we accept such a statement as true? Certainly not. And why? Because we know the truth about this proposition, and no amount of argument can change it. We also know that the sun does not rise in the morning nor set in the evening. We also know that the earth is not stationary, but revolves on its axis once every twenty-four hours. We also know that any object in the distance is not as small as mortal vision would have us believe. And so I could go on and cite many instances of the unreliability of sense testimony. There is a marked difference between understanding and belief. Sense testimony subjects us to many conflicting beliefs, while Truth only is knowable, for there is only one Truth. Mrs. Eddy states on page 203 of the Christian Science textbook, "If God were understood instead of being merely believed, this understanding would establish health." Christian Science bids us awake from this material dream of sensation and delusion to the full realization and understanding that God is All-in-all, the only power, and that every thing unlike Him is unreal and untrue.

NEED OF SALVATION

Now how is this to be accomplished? Christian Science is demonstrating that the Christianity preached and practiced by Christ Jesus is as available today as it was centuries ago. Now, as then, does it lead the way out of the depths of sin and disease to the heights of purity and health. It matters not how long one has wandered amid the woods and mountains in profound darkness, gloom, and despair; it matters not how low one has fallen in the depths of sin; Christian Science teaches that Love is the liberator. As Mrs. Eddy has so beautifully stated on page 454 of the Christian Science textbook, "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way."

The Bible tells us that now is the day of salvation, that "now are we the sons of God." What a blessing to know that salvation is not far off, is not a future possibility, but is a present available and practical accomplishment, the realization of which is made possible by knowing, as Christian Science teaches, that God is the only Mind, Intelligence, and that man in the image and likeness of God is reflecting that Mind, this intelligence. Paul said: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). The mind which was in Christ Jesus is a mind entirely filled with goodness and godliness; it is a state of consciousness wherein God is ever acknowledged as the only presence, the only power, the only reality, and this is the mind the student of Christian Science must attain in order to be saved. Answering the inquiry of Nicodemus, Jesus said: "Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3), showing the necessity of regeneration, to put off mortality and put on immortality—to reflect that mind which heals the sick and reforms the sinner and demonstrates that "the kingdom of God is within you."

SPIRITUAL HEALING

Many are under the impression today that Christian Scientists are cold, indifferent, and unsympathetic regarding the belief of sickness and suffering, and charge us with doing nothing to afford relief to those who are struggling with such beliefs. This is because it is difficult for a person thinking in terms of matter to comprehend how healing can be done without drugs, manipulation, or material means.

Christian Science does not approve of or recognize the use of material remedies or material means of any sort as an agency of healing; on the contrary, it adopts the purely spiritual teaching and practice of the blessed Master, and only by intelligent and absolute reliance on God, "Who," as the Psalmist declares, "forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases," is true healing made possible, and is man rescued from the false beliefs of sin and disease. Christian Science treatment is not a system of denials; it is not the hypnotic influence of one human mind upon another; nor is it suggestion or mesmerism, as is sometimes ignorantly stated. The accusation that he cast out devils by Beelzebub, Jesus replied, "If I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out?" (Matthew 12:27). Error cannot correct error; no more can the human mind instructed in spiritual law grasp the import of spiritual healing, nor the means by which it is brought about.

The Christian Science practitioner never attempts to heal matter, never regards person as a patient. He knows instantly that a patient is an erring sense of mind, recognizes that causation is mental, and endeavors to reveal to the patient the Science or truth of being; and when this truth is revealed to the consciousness of the sufferer, he is healed.

Thousands of men and women have been healed of sickness and sin through reading the Christian Science textbook alone, as evidenced by testimonials which will be found in the last chapter, "Fruitage," and also by those given at our Wednesday evening testimonial services, proving that the revelation of Truth contained in those pages opens the door of human understanding, brings to human consciousness man's true relationship to God, and permanent healing, unlabored and joyous, follows as a natural consequence. This understanding of God impels man to learn His will and do it. Thus, governed, man learns that it is God who "healeth all thy diseases" and is an ever-present help in trouble. Christian Scientists are learning to trust this God and rely on His promises. They are proving that He does answer the righteous prayer of the sick and sinning.

PRAYER

True Christianity includes prayer, and prayer is generally believed by Christian people to be the means by which man communicates with God. There are many differing opinions among Christians as to what constitutes true prayer, and we sometimes hear the opinion voiced that Christian Scientists do not pray, that they are a prayerless people. It seems almost incredible that such a belief could exist today. Christian Scientists not only pray with out ceasing, but they pray understandingly. It is true they do not petition God to grant material desires and pleasures. They do not ask Him to conform His will to theirs. On page 1 of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy states, "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God—a spiritual understanding of Him, that is not far off, is not a future possibility, but is a present available and practical accomplishment, the realization of which is made possible by knowing, as Christian Science teaches, that God is the only Mind, Intelligence, and that man in the image and likeness of God is reflecting that Mind, this intelligence. Paul said: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). The mind which was in Christ Jesus is a mind entirely filled with goodness and godliness; it is a state of consciousness wherein God is ever acknowledged as the only presence, the only power, the only reality, and this is the mind the student of Christian Science must attain in order to be saved. Answering the inquiry of Nicodemus, Jesus said: "Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3), showing the necessity of regeneration, to put off mortality and put on immortality—to reflect that mind which heals the sick and reforms the sinner and demonstrates that "the kingdom of God is within you."

Jesus attached so much importance to the right concept of prayer that he gave us the greatest of all prayers, known as the Lord's Prayer. The first chapter in the Christian Science textbook is on prayer, and in this chapter Mrs. Eddy sets forth clearly and concisely what constitutes true prayer and what the purpose of prayer must be, all of which is in exact accord with the teachings of Jesus. Christian Science treatment is prayer which delivers men from the false beliefs of sin and sickness, and is the means of gaining the perfect understanding of God and His reflection, man. On page 16 of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy writes, "Only as we rise above all material sensuousness and sin, can we reach the heaven-born aspiration and spiritual consciousness, which is indicated in the Lord's Prayer and which instantaneously heals the sick." And then follows the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation. The fervency and tenderness of the Lord's Prayer as revealed in the spiritual interpretation quiets fear, removes malice, envy, hatred, and jealousy, stills the tempests of mad ambition.

In June, 1924, it was my privilege to attend the Republican National Convention held in Cleveland, where I witnessed a practical demonstration of the foregoing statement. Each session of the convention was opened with prayer, and the privilege of opening the fourth session was granted to the Christian Scientists. On Thursday afternoon, after a stormy and confused session, recess was taken for one hour for conferences, the convention being called to order again at 4:00 P. M. It was a seething mass of humanity numbering 12,000 people. The delegates were hot and tired from long and tedious labor trying to unite on a candidate for Vice-President. It seemed impossible for the chairman to restore order, and almost in despair, he asked the Christian Scientist present who was acting as chaplain to invoke the divine blessing. Stepping to the front of the rostrum, he raised his hands and requested all to arise and unite in a few moments of silent prayer, to be followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison. In an instant you could have heard a pin drop, the peace and quiet was so marked during the silent prayer; and then followed the reverent, audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer, all present responding in perfect unison. The inspiration and confidence that came to those leaders was beautiful to behold. Several expressed themselves as impressed with the thought of its being the most effective prayer of the convention. A minister in the audience said it seemed as though the gates of heaven had opened to receive that vast audience into the presence of the Almighty. It is needless to say that the convention quietly and quickly resumed deliberations and soon nominated a candidate for Vice-President. The effects of this experience were far-reaching, as reports show that large assemblies in other cities, listening in on the radio, stood in silence during the silent prayer, and many participated in the audible repetition. It was an experience never to be forgotten, for it again proved the power of the prayer, fulfilling the promise of Scripture so beautifully set forth in the 15th chapter of John, 7th verse: "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

The following lines of a hymn in the Christian Science Hymnal express the Christian Science thought of what constitutes true prayer: "Prayer is the heart's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed; The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast. Prayer is the simplest form of speech, That infant lips can try; Prayer is the sublimest strains that reach The Majesty on high. Prayer is the Christian's vital breath, The Christian's native air; His watchword over death—He enters heav'n with prayer."

THE BIBLE

Christian Scientists accept the teachings of the Holy Bible without reservation as their daily rule and guide. This Bible is not a Bible of their own, as is sometimes ignorantly believed (if by this is meant a specially written volume for them alone); it is what is known as the King James version of the Old and New Testaments, the same Bible that is used in most of the churches to-day, and I am glad to say that every Christian Scientist possesses a copy of this volume, which he studies daily, together with the Christian Science textbook. It is recorded that when Jesus appeared to his disciples on the shores of the Galilean Sea after his resurrection, he said to them: "These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures" (Luke 24:44-45).

Mrs. Eddy has written on page 99 of the Christian Science textbook: "Truth has furnished the key to the kingdom, and with this key Christian Science has opened the door of the human understanding."

The Christian Scientist soon finds that the study of the Christian Science textbook, this Key to the Scriptures, increases his interest in the Bible, and, instead of being a book of mystery, it becomes to him an open fount of spiritual enlightenment, revealing spiritual truths that are usable and practical in daily experience. This spiritual enlightenment brings about an improved understanding of man's true relationship to his Maker and he is then receptive to the Christ, Truth, that heals and saves and rescues man from the false beliefs of sin and disease.

The teachings of Christian Science are fully set forth in the Christian Science textbook, of which Mrs. Eddy is the author. Describing the basis and method of her discovery, Mrs. Eddy has said: "The Scriptures were illumined; reason and revelation were reconciled, and afterwards the truth of Christian Science was demonstrated" (Science and Health, p. 110).

Jesus taught that good cannot produce evil, and he proved by his works that sin and sickness were errors of belief which he could and did destroy. He promised that his followers should do the works that he was able to do (see John 14:12), and thanks to Mrs. Eddy's patient, tireless efforts in giving Christian Science to the world, thousands of her followers all over the world are able to follow the commands of the Master.

The Christian Scientist daily studies the sacred teachings of the Bible and of the textbook (which is a commentary of the entire Scriptures) for his inspiration and his spiritual instruction, and there he finds them. He has found that the method revealed by Mrs. Eddy in Christian Science is correct and scientific, for in no least way does she depart from the principle and rule laid down by the Master. Christian Science has also found that by emulating the example of the beloved Master in preaching the Gospel of good tidings and healing the sick, He shares in the blessings that come to those who look to God in every need. Christian Science and Christianity are one, and the Christian Scientist is taught so to live and act and think that his daily life will attest his sincerity and his Christianity.

THE WAY-SHOWER

Christ Jesus established the standard of Christianity. He was the Way-shower, leaving us the only perfect example that we should follow his steps. Jesus was as meek and humble as He was mighty, as evidenced so clearly in his reply to a certain ruler when addressed as "good Master." "Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God" (Luke 18:19). This clear perception of God's almighty goodness, enabled Jesus, when confronted by physical evidence of sin, disease, or death, to heal these disorders or errors of belief instantly. Jesus realized that of himself he could do nothing, but that with God all things are possible. He recognized man's unity with God, the true spiritual idea of God and man, for he did not say "I and my Father are one."

Christian Science teaches that it is this spiritual idea, this understanding of God and His reflection, man, that heals the sick to-day as it did in the time of Jesus. This spiritual idea is the Christ. On page 583 of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy defines Christ: "The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." This divine manifestation of God, or Christ, was reflected so perfectly by Jesus in all that he thought and did that he will always stand as the highest type of spiritual man that ever trod the earth. Therefore in Christian Science we know him as Jesus the Christ, or Christ Jesus.

Can you not see that as we establish in our consciousness the Christ, Truth, this spiritual idea, that all beliefs of the flesh, that is, the false beliefs of life and sensation in matter, vanish, and "man is found having no righteousness of his own, but in possession of the 'image of the Lord,' as the Scripture says" (Science and Health, p. 291)? Mrs. Eddy admonishes us so beautifully to follow the example of the Master in the following words, which will be found on page 210 of "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany": "Beloved Christian Scientists, keep your minds so filled with Truth and Love, that sin, disease, and death cannot enter them."

Jesus' perfect understanding and realization of the ever-presence of the Christ enabled him to see man as the image and likeness of God, and thus it was that he healed the sick and reformed the sinner. As Mrs. Eddy so aptly states on page 476 of the Christian Science textbook, "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

MARY BAKER EDDY

Having learned something about this Christ, Truth, which Christian Science reveals, it is only fitting and proper that we should know something about the discoverer as well as the discovery.

Born of New England parents, Mary Baker Eddy was an unusual child in that she manifested at an early age a keen desire for learning and study. She was an apt pupil, and made rapid progress under the tutelage of her brother, who was a college student, and when but a child she studied Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. She read the Bible with deep interest, and soon developed an aptitude for composition and writing. Tender and loving in disposition, she made steady progress in her search and study of the Bible, and soon became conscious of the ability of God's word to heal the sick and reform the sinner.

Mrs. Eddy states on page 107 of the Christian Science textbook, "In the year 1856, I discovered the Christ Science or divine laws of Life, Truth, and Love, and named my discovery Christian Science. God had been graciously preparing me during many years for the reception of this final revelation of the absolute divine Principle of scientific mental healing." This revelation came to Mrs. Eddy at a time when all seemed dark and hopeless. Lying upon a couch of pain as the result of an injury, she was placed in the hands of a physician, who despaired of her recovery and promised no hope. Left alone, she opened the Bible and turned to the ninth chapter of Matthew, second verse, and as she read about the man sick of the palsy who was healed by Jesus, the light of spiritual Truth of the Christ-spirit dawned in her consciousness, and she arose from her couch instantly and perfectly healed. Thoroughly convinced that her healing was the direct result of the operation of spiritual law, Mrs. Eddy continued to search the Scriptures until the Science of Christianity was fully revealed to her and she became conscious of the fact that the same law which enabled Jesus to heal the man sick of the palsy had healed her, again fulfilling the promise of the Master, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do, shall he do also" (John 14:12).

Thoroughly satisfied that her discovery was in accordance with God's law, Mrs. Eddy, unswayed, set out to prove her discovery. This pure and spiritually minded woman bore the heat and burden of the day patiently and lovingly, overcame obstacles, and gave to the world the result of her search and discovery, the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

CHURCH

In order that the teachings therein contained might be properly presented to the world, Mrs. Eddy recognized the necessity of establishing or providing a church. Accordingly, in the year 1879, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was founded. The growth and progress of Christian Science have been steady and phenomenal, there being in existence to-day over 2,000 branch churches and societies throughout the world. The fruits of Christian Science, seen over all the world in all these church organizations, are striking evidences that Christian Scientists are gaining from the Bible the spiritual meaning and understanding which gives them power to perform the same wonderful healing works that Jesus promised his true followers that they should be able to perform, and truly say, as did the Apostle James: "Shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works" (James 2:18). Why should it be thought strange that Christian Scientists are grateful and that they publicly express their gratitude at the Wednesday evening meetings held in all Christian Science churches to the one who has shown them the way out of sickness into perfect health and harmony, out of darkness and chaos into light and peace; who has brought to light Immanuel; God with us, a God who is good, ever-present, whose arm is protecting and supporting us? The discovery and the discoverer cannot be separated; therefore do all loyal Christian Scientists express to Mrs. Eddy, the Leader of the Christian Science movement, their heartfelt gratitude for all the benefits they have received and are receiving daily through their study and application of her teachings.

ITS APPEAL

It is generally conceded that the appeal of Christian Science to the world is mostly responded to by those who are suffering from despair, sickness, and sin, without hope or expectation in the world, and the question is sometimes asked, Why is this so? It is because they have searched for and tried every material healing agency known, have embraced different systems of religious beliefs, but without any lasting results or success. Turning to Christian Science, they have found that it is the fulfillment of Bible promises; that the truth preached and practiced by Jesus is as efficacious today as it was centuries ago. Christian Science stands to-day a practical, demonstrable Science, proved to be so by thousands within its ranks who bear living testimony to what it has done and is doing for all mankind.

You frequently hear this remark: I would like to know about Christian Science, but it seems to be so hard to understand. I just cannot grasp it. Why, it is so simple that the little children in the Sunday School grasp the import of its teachings readily and make rapid strides in its application with many happy results. The Bible records that when the disciples asked Jesus, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" that he set a little child in their midst and replied, "Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 18:3). In other words, as we relinquish all beliefs of self, and become humble and meek, do we become receptive (do we open the door of the human understanding) to the light that shineth unto a perfect day.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

I am glad to bear witness to-night to the fulfillment of the promise in the Bible, "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you" (Luke 11:9). Christian Science was presented to me while on a week's outing. For many years I accompanied the male members of my family on these annual trips. One member of our party was a Christian Scientist, and it was my good fortune to pair with him one morning while on this trip, which means we were companions for the day. It was a beautiful morning, and as our little fleet of boats launched forth for the fishing ground, we were happy and full of expectation. Upon arrival, we cast off and anchored apart from the others and started our day of sport. The fishing was not very good, and after several hours of patient endeavor my thought seemed to turn to the glory of creation. Now I had always felt I could not grasp Christian Science; in fact, I may say I was somewhat antagonistic. But, turning to this loved one with me, I said: "Tell me something about Christian Science." He smiled, and, being that is, ever ready at the post of duty, he talked to me for more than an hour about God and man. He presented to me in such a simple, yet loving way, the Truth of being, the allness of God, the teachings of the Master, recounting some of his words and works, also some of the results of the consecrated and devoted life-work of Mrs. Eddy. It was a perfect setting for this illumination. Above was the clear blue sky, with the sun shining in all its glory and splendor; beneath, the quiet rippling waters of St. Clair Flats. The reeds, swaying gently in the summer breeze, were chanting their anthems of praise; the sea lulls, flying about, were singing their jubilant song of happiness; and as his new-old story of Jesus and his love awakened me to a new state of consciousness, I became cognizant of a new generation, the scales dropped from my eyes and I saw the light. Like the fisherman of old, it was there that I cast my net on the right side of the boat, and the net has been full to overflowing ever since. Needless to say, I was healed of many false beliefs that a fisherman is heir to, the most stubborn one being the tobacco habit, which had been with me for many years.

The Fulfillment of Scriptural Promises

also the belief of catching fish for pleasure.

CONCLUSION

Friends, Christian Science shows that Scriptural promises were ample and far-reaching, and were not made for a limited time only, as is sometimes believed, but for all time. It also shows that these promises are not a hollow mockery, but are based upon absolute spiritual law and power available to every phase of daily experience. Christian Science teaches the Science of Christianity or the Christ, Truth, which heals and saves. It breaks the day dream of life and sensation in matter. It declares God aright and furnishes a key to the Scriptures which dispels mystery and makes plain the word of God to man. It reveals the only true God who is Love, unchangeable, ever-present, and impartial, whom to know aright brings permanent peace and happiness. Let us ponder the words of Mrs. Eddy on page 13 of the Christian Science textbook: "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open font which cries, 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters.' The assurance of the fulfillment of God's promises is appropriately and impressively set forth in the following verse taken from one of our hymns in the Christian Science Hymnal:

"Our God is Love, unchanging Love, And can we ask for more? Our prayer is vain that asks increase: 'Twas infinite before. Ask not the Lord with breath of praise For more than we accept: The open fount is free to all, God's promises are kept." (Hymn 191)

BROKEN HEARTS of HOLLYWOOD

Copyrighted by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"BROKEN HEARTS of HOLLYWOOD" with Louise Dresser in a Warner picturization of this novel

SYNOPSIS
Betsy Terrell and Hal Chutney, in Hollywood as prize winners of newspaper contests for movie trophies, are dismal failures in their attempts at screen acting. Old-timers see a mysterious resemblance in Betsy to someone they cannot remember. Marshall, reputed to be responsible for many of the "broken hearts" of Hollywood, is attentive to Betsy, arousing Hal's jealous anger. Grubbing around the Studios as extras they meet disheartening experiences. Hal thrashes a man who makes advances to Betsy.

Of course, Betsy's name was soon connected with the fight-by tongue-wagging extras who had been eye-witnesses to the incident in the casting lobby the day before; and when the whole truth came out, the Studio Manager sent for Hal, lifted the ban against him, apologized, and congratulated him. All of which did not repay Hal for the several days' wages lost, for meanwhile someone else had been substituted for his part.

News got to the boarding house, too, and there Hal became something of a hero. It was noted that Marshall, while no less attentive to Betsy, was a great deal less openly disregardful of Hal.

It was axiomatic with Marshall that the sooner a quarry is stripped of its last means of support the quicker the kill. He knew much of the financial status of the two contestants, for in the course of his many brief evening rides with Betsy he had, in the role of counselor and older friend, wormed such personal matters from the unsophisticated child. He knew now that they had not much left, and he felt that the time was ripe for a coup to relieve them of what did remain.

The net result of the Course was that Betsy, who was due to get but three days' work during the term she studied with Marshall, was reduced to extreme poverty; and Hal got neither more nor less work than he had done before taking the lessons. Marshall, however, had promised them that he was fair, and fully canvassing the studios for "small parts" for them, but warned with an ominous note in his voice that business had suddenly depended upon the industry. So for what work he got, Hal was forced to hunt around and fight just as hard as he had done before.

He helped Betsy as much as he could to the industry. There was an older hand, talented in a way, and well-known in the casting offices. She was always one of the first to be selected. But more than once she discreetly stopped and inquired a casting director into taking Betsy in her stead. Of course, this was without Betsy's knowledge.

"You're looking like hell, kid!" Clara said to Betsy one day. "Eating regular?"

"Yes," said Betsy hesitantly. "But things are not breaking so good for me, are they?"

She did not tell Clara that her board was unpaid for two weeks now, and that her shoes were practically through—the only pair she had left. But what Betsy herself did not know was that Hal had gone to Mrs. Ruem on the quiet and, pleading her to secrecy, had kept Betsy's board paid up.

Hal was jobbing pretty steadily now, though at best he could not make what was working every day at pay ranging from $25.00 to $75.00—very much the same for a week. It had been enough to support himself, but now he was faced with the necessity of supporting Betsy too, for he noted with dismay the worried and pinched look on her face, the shabby appearance of her clothes.

"Then Hal made a big decision. First of all he had Mrs. Ruem go to Betsy and say to her: "Now, honey, don't you worry for a while of paying me your board. I know you're going to make good, and when you've done so, then you can pay up what you owe me. But for the present—forget it."

Betsy put that down in the back of her mind, and the kindness of the landlady, and kissed her with tears and large promises.

Then Hal took Betsy into conference. "I've been working pretty good, dear, and I want you to take a little loan and buy some new duds. You know, sweetheart, the price of getting on in this business is a good impression. You've got to dress sort of snappy. Take this hundred—I've saved it. Get a new outfit, and pay me back when you can."

"Oh, Hal, I can't," she sobbed. "Why not?" he charged indignantly, but she gave a fellow the same rights in helping out a girl as he was actually married to her? "Don't be silly, now, dearest, but take this—"

The pain of shabbiness and worried disappointment due much toward breaking down normal reserve, and in the end Betsy took the money which Hal proffered with his wholesome smile and tender devotion. The very next day, in the clothes she bought with the aid and under the supervision of Clara, she attracted a casting director's eye enough to gain a bit part in a college story.

But forthwith something began to occur that was a mystery to Betsy.

Loses Heart to Iceman

Colleen Moore and Lloyd Hughes in a scene from "Ella Cinders" which comes to the screen of the California for two days starting today.

Harrison Ford Is Star At Richmond

Harrison Ford, who gave the screen a convincing portrayal of a profligate in Fox Films "The Wheel," which proved one of the cinema sensations of the season, has returned to Fox Films a reformed man. "Hell's Four Hundred," the dramatic film version of Vaughn Kester's "The Jew and the Jewess," a novel of Broadway night life, shows him as the district attorney who has started a relentless clean-up of vice den. This picture will show at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow.

Margaret Livingston is starred as Evelyn Vance, cabaret girl of the Rock Stage Cafe and she is used as a lure in a trap to catch the profligate. She finds Marshall Langham, profligate brother of the district attorney's rich (father) is "bigger game" and looks him but he proves to be a forger and while the cabaret girl is conferring with the prosecutor about forger Langham kills John Gilmore, the view boss, who had used.

The circumstances all indicate that the prosecutor is the slayer and is arrested, but in leaving the city, Langham is fatally injured. He confesses, clears the prosecutor just before he dies and leaves the cabaret girl just where she was before he met her, one jump ahead of the police and the pawnbroker.

Others in the cast are Henry Kolker, Walter Catton, Marceline Day, Rodney Hildebrand and Amber Norman.

Other features include "Wide Awake," a Lige Conley comedy; and "Prizma," the screen magazine.

DEMPSEY GIVEN COLD SHOULDER BY N. Y. BOARD

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, June 22.—Tex Rickard's application for a permit to hold a heavyweight championship bout between Jack Dempsey title holder and Gene Tunney at the Yankee Stadium on September 16 was turned down by the N. Y. State athletic commission this afternoon.

Neither Rickard's offer to post $50,000 guarantee to match the winner of this bout with Harry Wills some time next June nor his pleas that he tried to match Dempsey with Wills last year had any effect on the heartstrings of the commissioner.

Sherman James A. Farley and George E. Brower voted against the Dempsey-Tunney proposal. William Muldoon alone was in favor of it and expressed himself in many and well chosen words. Rickard was accompanied by William F. Tarey treasurer and vice-president of the New Madison Square Garden corporation and Jess McMahon the Garden matchmaker. He opened by explaining his reasons for wishing to stage the bout between Dempsey and Tunney.

He told the commission that he had tried to get Wills for Dempsey last year and that he made a special trip to Chicago to talk the matter over with Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager. He stated further that Mullins turned his proposition down on the grounds that he was obligated to Floyd Fitzsimmons. The Chicago promoter who operates around Michigan city and that he, Rickard, gave the Dempsey Wills match up as a bad job. Since then he explained after his failure to secure Wills he signed both Dempsey and Tunney for a fight for this summer and that he had advanced large sums of money to both of them.

It didn't take the commissioners very long to come to a decision. Muldoon was the only dissenter declaring:

"My position is that I would like to see Dempsey tackle someone else besides Wills and to show the public what he can do. The same goes for Wills. To bring together two men whose ability is yet to be seen would be an outrage. One hasn't fought in two years the other in three let them prove that they still live up to their reputations."

Rickard refused to state after the meeting of the commission what he intended to do.

Veterans Must File For Tax Exemption Before July Fifth

Monday July 5 is the time limit when ex-soldiers claiming exemption from taxes must file their affidavits, according to City Tax Collector J. O. Ford, who stated yesterday that all veterans who have not made application since the first Monday in March are urged to do so immediately. An exemption of $1,000 from assessed values providing the net worth is not in excess of $5,000 is permitted to all veterans having honorable discharges from the service.

Each veteran must apply in person and make an affidavit stating which property he wishes to claim exempt and must have his affidavit accompanied by his discharge papers. The law requires this procedure to be made on each and every year. He must file for both real and personal property and state that both be considered with his exemption. Should he not appear personally it is understood that he wishes to waive exemption.

Pinole Man Is Held To Explain Ten Gallon Still

Pending the investigation of a ten gallon still in his automobile while driving through the streets of Berkeley, George O'Connor of Pinole is being held by the Berkeley police. Investigations are also being made into the tangled domestic affairs of O'Connor.

Following a quarrel with his bride of one month Sunday night, Mrs. O'Connor accompanied by a child by a former marriage left for the home of her sister, Mrs. V. Farris, of Berkeley. Following Mrs. O'Connor's departure, O'Connor fell asleep and the home which he is said to have rented from Albert Castro, caught fire and burned to the ground. O'Connor was rescued by passing motorists. The fire is believed to have started by defective wiring.

According to officers, O'Connor is believed to have rescued the still from the house and to have started for Berkeley where he was arrested. The O'Connors were married on May 3 and two days later while on their honeymoon the automobile in which they were driving was struck by an electric train in Oakland. Mrs. O'Connor was badly injured and taken to a hospital.

When arrested by the Berkeley police early yesterday morning, O'Connor told a rambling story stating that his Pinole home had burned and was insured for $29,000. Investigation showed that he was not the owner and that the house was valued at $2,500.

Miss Alice Berley of San Antonio, Texas, is visiting Mrs. Mary Hodges, 17 Montana avenue.

VIN AND MISS BROWNE LOSE AT WIMBLEDON

(By Universal Service)

WIMBLEDON, England, June 22.—The United States' leading contenders for the Wimbledon titles in both the men's and women's divisions, were eliminated in second and first round matches today.

Vincent Richards once more fell a victim of the inspired stroking of France's latest tennis sensation, Henry Cochet in a second round match and Miss Mary K. Browne, captain of the American women's team again bowed to the incomparable Lenglen in a first round encounter. Richards made a strong start in his match against Cochet, winning the first set 6-4, but slumped to lose the next three and the match, 3-6, 4-6, 3-6. Miss Browne lost in straight sets 2-6, 3-6.

Howard Kinsey, of California, who is now America's lone hope for the men's title, defeated J. B. Gilbert, the left-handed English star in impressive fashion, using beautiful court generalship and handling his baffling chop stroke with uncanny steadiness. The American went through his opponent in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

Other members of the victorious American Wightman cup team enjoyed a better fate than their captain, Miss Browne, winning their first round matches easily. Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of California, defeated Mrs. Colegate of England, 6-0, 6-4. Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup of Boston, who starred in the recent Wightman cup competition, won a hotly contested match from Mrs. Mayorga of 6-2, 7-5. Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American champion, who however did not play in the cup matches this year easily disposed of Mrs. L. C. McCune, 6-1, 6-2.

Hunt For Killer Of Co-ed Started By Seattle Police

SEATTLE, June 22.—Although the fiend who attacked and killed Sylvia Gaines, 22 year old Smith College graduate, here last week, did not leave the least vestige of a clue, Seattle police today are determined to effect his capture. Witnesses who saw a man following Sylvia the night of the murder, were taken to the bedside of her shell shocked father, Wallace C. Gaines and were emphatic in their statements that he was not the man they saw.

Gaines, still ill from the effects of poison gas, was a broken man today. After the coroners jury viewed the dead girls body today it was decided her remains could be shipped to Massachusetts without further delay. Her mother, now divorced from her father, lives at Lynnfield in that state.

BIRTHS RECORDED

Three birth certificates were issued yesterday by City Health Officer Dr. C. R. Blake. They included: Dylliss Jean Brundige born June 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brundige of Rodeo; Carmen Phyllis Amaral, born June 17 to Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Amaral, 524 Barrett avenue. A son, born June 19 to Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Kirkpatrick of Richmond.

ASKS DIVORCE

Alleging that his wife had associated with other men, John De Souza of Richmond filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Mary De Souza in the Superior Court at Martinez yesterday. He asks custody of a minor child which, he declares, Mrs. Souza now has. The plaintiff is represented by Attorneys Homer Patterson and T. H. DeLap.

The obvious defense of Jockey Schwartz, exiled from the Havre de Grace track for the alleged use of an electric battery on a horse, is: "Well, President Coolidge gets away with it, so why shouldn't I?"

Remell Defeats Tillotson In S. O. Tournament

In the first real upset of the Standard Oil tennis tournament, A. S. Remell came from behind to win over R. R. Tillotson in their match played on the Point Richmond courts yesterday evening. The scores were 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. By virtue of his victory Remell entered the semi-finals of the tournament and will meet the winner of the L. S. Fish-H. Francis match to decide the winner of the lower half of the tournament.

Tillotson after a hard fight annexed the first set, by his service ace and placements, but in the second Remell annexed a 3-0 lead and the pace set by Tillotson to tie the set score at 3 and 4 all weakened him considerably and after Remell annexed the second set, Tillotson tired and after battling even to three game all, Remell took three games in a row to win the third set and match. Tillotson's steady chop stroke and service were much in evidence during the match, but Remell's ability to follow up his backhand placements to the net for points was a great factor in his victory.

In the other matches A. K. Herman continued on his way to the finals by defeating D. McKittrick by scores of 6-1, 6-0. H. Williams defeated J. F. Healy 6-2, 6-3, and meets Herman Wednesday noon at the Point Richmond courts in the third round. Harold Johnson and H. B. Nichols are all primed up for their set-to, which will occur Thursday evening on the Point Richmond courts. The winner of this match will then play Vern Lanford Saturday, on the Point Richmond courts. L. S. Fish will meet H. Francis, Wednesday noon on the Refinery court, and the winner will play A. S. Remell in the semi-finals of the lower half.

Alexander Is Sent To Cards

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, June 22.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, star twirler for the Chicago Cubs was released today to the St. Louis Cardinals. Alexander was recently suspended by Manager McCarthy for breaking training rules. Alexander is one of the oldest pitchers in organized baseball.

Togs To Play The Panama Cardinals

The Richmond Togs will meet the Panama Cardinals at Bushrod Park at Oakland at 11:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. The Cards are leading the Spaulding B League and have not lost a game this year.

Sportographs

TENNIS

Japanese tennis stars have arrived in San Francisco from Mexico where they defeated the Mexican team for the Mexico City Cup. The Japanese team will enter matches with the Filipino team at the Kezar stadium at San Francisco on Friday afternoon in the second round of the tournament. This tournament will last three days. Two singles will be played the first day; a double the second and two singles on the third day.

CREWS

The weather is still raising a rumpus with the crews in the east. The waters on the Hudson have been so rough lately that none of the ten crews have been able to hold a workout. This is worrying Coach Ky Ebright of the University of California crew for his men need the workouts more than any of the other crews.

MARY BROWNE

Mary Browne is rated as a good tennis player and once was the best that America produced but now she does not seem to be making any headway against the brilliant playing of Suzanne Lenglen in Paris. Helen Wills loss was more than a little loss to the United States.

WALTER MAILS

Set Date For Martin Trial

July 12 has been set as the date for the trial of Julius C. Martin, of Richmond, who pleaded not guilty yesterday before Superior Court Justice A. B. McKenzie on the charge of embezzling $313 from John Capa, Richmond dairyman.

According to the complaint made by Capa, Martin is said to have embezzled the money while employed by the dairy.

all of the clowning he wanted to for Tom declares that Mails is a great drawing card for baseball. Mails clowning around with the St. Louis Cardinals and Rogers Hornsby didn't like it so he shipped him to Syracuse. Tom is now after Mails.

GOLF

Over 117 golfers, both amateurs and pros are starting practice for the British open championship to be staged in England soon. Four American amateurs and nine professionals are entered in the matches and maybe by some miracle an American will win the championship. Jim Barnes, the American who won the cup last year will be defending the cup and Bobby Jones is given a high rating to take the cup.

Fascist Movement Is Outlined At Lion's Luncheon

The development of the Fascist movement and its effect upon the spirit of Italy were sketched yesterday at the Lion's club luncheon by Dr. Walter Morrill of San Francisco, former educator in the University of Milan. Dr. Morrill stated that Italy was active in its attitude toward Mussolini and the acquisition of territory for colonial policies. He characterized Mussolini as the key to the solution of the European problem of today.

A traveling bag was presented on behalf of the club by Tsar Calfee to Wilbur Pierce, retiring president of the Lion's club. Pierce was complimented upon his successful leadership of the club. Attention to the charter night celebration to be held in Antioch next Tuesday was called by John Miller. L. J. Thomas told the members of his recent 4,000-mile trip through the western states. Dr. Hinkley who is vacationing in Vancouver sent greetings to the club. Music for the day was furnished by Bert Carter, baritone, and John Toffoli, accordionist.

Miss Katherine Harr and Miss Clare Hartnett, 1407 Bissell avenue have returned from a two weeks visit in Los Angeles.

I'll say P.A. makes a bang-up cigarette

IF YOU have never made a cigarette with Prince Albert, I'd like to register right here that you've been missing something mighty good. You can quote me on this: a cigarette made with good old P. A. has 'em all stopped in the home-rolled line. It's the tobacco!

Prince Albert needs no paper-weight or pot-lead to keep it from blowing away when you roll it. You know what I mean . . . stays put in the papers. But that isn't the big point. It's the wonderful taste of a P. A.-rolled cigarette that bangs your smoke-spot for high score.

Cool as a parachute-jumper. Sweet as a stolen kiss. Fragrant as a pine-grove on a damp morning. I'd like to bet that you'll be rolling one right after another when you try P. A. Which will be soon, if I have made myself clear! Try rolling 'em with P. A. on my say-so.

If you're a pipe-smoker, Prince Albert will give you more pleasure that way too. I smoke it both ways—a few home-rolled cigarettes and then a pipe-load. A couple more cigarettes and then a pipe-load. And so on. Either way, P. A. is wonderful tobacco. It sure is, Men.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and tippy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

200,000 Women In Pilgrimage Attend Special Services Of Eucharistic Congress

sum this morning when the mass of the blessed sacrament was commenced, and most of them were women. The comparatively few men present were in the background, on the fringes of the crowd, pushed well out of the way for this occasion.

It was without doubt the largest assemblage of women ever seen in this country. Over 50,000 women—and some men—remained outside the gates, many banked on the steps of the field museum, some standing, or sitting on the ground, waiting to enter the proceedings with the gates as it came to them by radio.

MASS THE SAME

It might be explained that the mass each day is the same, but the music is different. The music of the mass today is called "Missa Mystica", or "The Mystic Rose". It was composed by Vito Carnevale, and was sung by Vito Carnevale, and was sung by a mighty chorus of women, which included over 7000 nuns of the different orders. The nuns, peaceful, beautiful in their devotion, presented the most inspiring picture of all that enormous spectacle.

The crowd in Soldiers' Field today was much larger than yesterday. A corrected estimate of the attendance on children's day puts it at approximately 125,000. The aisles between the benches on the playing field were kept cleared yesterday to avoid any possibility of accident to the youngsters. Today spectators were permitted to stand in these aisles, and all about the stands, and the attendance figure of 150,000 is very close.

STARTED AT DAWN

The pilgrimage of the women to Soldiers' Field began almost at dawn. By eight o'clock the bridges across the Illinois Central tracks fairly creaked to the steady swing of the columns of advancing women, middle-aged women, and young girls.

Here and there a child trotted beside a mother. One young woman carried a baby in her arms. She explained to a neighbor that she had no one with whom she could leave the youngster and rather than miss the services she took the chance of taking it with her. The baby was slumbering peacefully as the young mother plodded across the bridge. One wondered if it continued on its good behavior the rest of the morning.

The women came from every section of Chicago and from distant cities. They were of every walk of life. Some were richly garbed, some were shabbily clad.

ALL HAD TO WALK

Rich, or poor, they all had to march across the bridges as the police stopped all cars at Michigan avenue save those carrying the highest church officials.

Magnificent limousines would roll up to the bridge approaches, only to be waved back by the police. There the occupants, women in sumptuous finery would get out and join the march of their sisters of humbler circumstances, high heeled shoes clicking on the board flooring with the softer pad-pad of less ostentatious footwear.

Women wearing wide picture hats and white fox furs and dark eyed foreign looking women wearing shawls over their heads, were in the singular procession. There were women who moved laboriously and with frequent halts for a breathing spell. There were bright young things who skipped along nimbly, dodging under ropes and fences raised by the local constabulary, to prevent just such incursions and laughing at the warning fingers of the minions of the law.

OFFICERS GOOD NATURED

These minions were good natured and lenient, anyway. They confined their attention to keeping the crowd moving, and it must be said for the women that they moved with more alacrity than any crowd of men. Moreover, they were better humored. There were some men to the pilgrimage, of course, but not enough to count, and they are hereby dismissed from this particular narrative.

USHERS IN WHITE

Girls in white acted as ushers inside Soldiers' Field and directed the women to different parts of the stadium. Some of these ushers wore signs on which were printed such words as "First Soprano". They were the guide posts, so to speak, for the formation of the mighty choir of ten thousand women of the laity and seven thousands nuns.

The lay singers were directed to the seats on the field that were occupied yesterday by the children. The sopranos were posted here, the altos here, and so on. From the little music loft stuck upon stilts, Otto Singenberg, the stout director of music for the Chicago diocese, beamed down benignly upon his great choir. He wore his uniform of white with the red edged sleeves. The trumpeters, all rather mature looking men, were in the loft with Singenberg. The front row of the gilded seats was occupied by nuns. The western pavilion was again filled with the sisters of the different orders, but scattered among them today were many lay spectators.

It is no easy climb up the steps of the sloping pavilion. A newspaper woman who tried it came back, reporting an argument in favor of flowing skirts.

"I thought I was fairly nimble with my short skirts", she said, "but I was puffing when I got to the top while those nuns didn't seem bothered, at all. Some of them must be eighty years old, too."

STUDY IN BLACK AND WHITE

But the habits of the nuns are heavy, and hot, and as the sun came on over Soldiers' Field, unhindered by a cloud in the sky, they began lifting their black umbrellas, those who didn't have umbrellas improvised head shelter of newspapers, as the bleacher fans at a baseball game shield themselves against rain. Presently the western pavilion was a remarkable study in black and white, the black umbrellas and black gowns of the sisters, relieved by the white newspapers and the white coifs framing the faces of the gentle women.

The sun came on hot, and hotter as the long reaches of the stands filled. It was a gorgeous morning. A light breeze rippled the flags and standards, and lightly swayed the huge ropes of green leaves hung between the flag poles over the red canopied pavilions occupied by the high priests of the church.

Buried somewhere in the western pavilion a band made its presence known by issuing blasts of old time Sousa marches as the women were filling in, lively jolts of music and yet not of the modern jazz school.

The sun lighted up the golden dome of the Majestic Shrine on the green hill touching the four winged angles on the corners of the dome with a gentle glow. It brought out the brilliant colors of red and purple and yellow and white in the altar trappings, and it made vivid play on the sloping banks of humanity, where the millinery of the women gave the stands the appearance of great fields of vari-colored flowers.

A loud speaking gentleman was testing the radio on the shrine. "If you people on the museum steps can hear me, wave your hands", he yelled.

The response seemed to be reassuring to him. "If you people down there can hear me, wave your hands", he asked the crowd on the field. "Attaboy!" he shouted to the response when he should have said "attagirl!", perhaps.

FIELD PACKED

The playing field, which held 62,000 children yesterday, was closely packed today. Many women sat on the ground in front of the first row of chairs. Many others stood. The crowd outside was even larger than yesterday and there is no doubt that there were more people in the field. It was an assemblage of humanity positively astounding. From the little rise of ground at the main gates you looked down a veritable valley—a living, breathing valley. The spectacle made one feel that they were dreaming. It seemed incredible that this thing could be reality.

On the steps of the Shrine sat Cardinal Piffel, of Austria, with Monsignor Ignatius Seipel, the former Chancellor of Austria one of the powerful figures of Europe, beside him. Piffel, which is pronounced "Piffle", is a ponderous man, deliberate of step and speech. He arrived early and sat some time watching the gathering of the crowd.

The radio announced finally call on the band to play "The Star Spangled Banner," the great crowd stood, and as the strains of America's national anthem rose on the air, it was followed by the voices of the women. That was a moment of tremendous thrill.

The announcer then said there would be an address in German by Cardinal Piffel of Germany, an error that produced a laugh. The Austrian Cardinal advanced to the speaker's stand a little box draped in red velvet to the right of the altar. The microphone is so arranged that it sets in the center of the shrine directly over the altar.

Apparently not a great many understood Piffel's speech and his voice carried none too well. He was heard with deep respect, however, and applauded as he concluded. He declared:

"The whole world is looking with amazement to this spectacle of faith which America in its youth has shown to the age old countries of the faith."

"The Christ of the Eucharist has truly left the catacombs and come into the heavens, dispensing his benediction of love to all. Verily, his benediction has fallen on America, no only the America of great faith, but of unbounded charity," said Cardinal Piffel.

JUSTICE BUTLER SPEAKS

Justice Butler resumed speaking. Supreme Court of the United States, was now presented and took his place in the speaker's stand. Butler's voice carried over the great crowd in ringing tones.

The radio was now apparently working well. He paused in the middle of the speech as a fanfare of trumpets announced the arrival of the Cardinals. They came in from the western side of the field instead of the eastern side as on yesterday when the procession was impeded by the crowd outside. Cardinals Bonzano, O'Donnell, Dubois, Von Faulhaber, Dougherty, Charost, O'Donnell and Mundelein were in the procession as it advanced behind the cross bearers, the women applauding the Cardinals as they passed.

Justice, Pierce Butler of the ing when the Cardinals were seated in the red pavilions to the right and left of the altar. Bonzano occupied his old throne to the right of the altar. It was getting hot as the hours wore on to noon and the Cardinal's throne afforded friendly shade to some of the young priests assisting in the ceremonies.

As Justice Butler concluded he kissed the ring of Cardinal Piffel. Again the crowd stood, with heads bared, and sang "The Star Spangled Banner". Then the mass began, conducted by the very Reverend Paul Globe, Apostolic Nuncio of the United States of Colombia, the women singing the music.

HANNA SPEAKS

Archbishop Hanna, of San Francisco, a tall man with a powerful resounding voice, now went to the speakers' stand and read two cablegrams from Gasparri, Papal secretary of state, one to Cardinal Bonzano, the Papal Legate, the other to Cardinal Mundelein. Archbishop Hanna read the cablegrams first in Latin, then in English, the text is as follows:

"To Bonzano: Seeing in the cordial, unanimous, stupendous welcome given to his Legate an outstanding manifestation of the love of his children and an eloquent proof of the noble sentiments of the entire American nation, his heart overflowing with happiness, the Holy Father, rejoiced at the triumphant success of the Eucharistic congress which all this assures."

CARDINAL GASPARRI.

To Mundelein: "The August Pontiff, present in spirit at the solemn inauguration of the Eucharistic congress is assured by the triumphal reception accorded to the Pontifical Legate, of the complete and full success of the Eucharistic congress and prays that God bestow his abundant blessings upon these extraordinary spiritual activities, certain that the love which inspires all this will be products of the great spiritual fruits and with paternal affection again bestows upon you the Apostolic benediction."

CARDINAL GASPARRI.

READ IT FIRST IN THE RECORD-HERALD.

The United States Government tells us that proven statistics show that of each 100 men passing the age of 25, 36 are dead before they reach 65 and that of the other 64—

1 will be wealthy 54 will be dependent upon
4 will have incomes some relative or upon
5 will have some earning charity.

Out of every 64 men reaching the age of 65, 54 are dependent! It is not reasonable to assume that any large percentage of them lived lives of reckless abandon or profligacy; there seems, rather, to be an intimation that disability or some other misfortune interfered with their well-laid plans.

Interconnection of power systems in California proved to be an economic factor, resulting in greater distribution of power when and where needed.

Thru interconnection, California Power Companies have been able to pool their power supplies for the benefit of the entire state.

This interconnection makes possible the delivery of hydro-electric power during dry seasons into sections that would be without power or dependent on expensive steam generated power.

The business initiative and enterprise of these companies continually aids state development.

Since 1913 the average per capita cost of living increased 65%, while the average cost of electricity decreased 8%.
